

The FCC must deny the National Association of Banks and other telemarketers request to weaken Wisconsin's most popular consumer protection program-the No Call List.

It is extremely important for the FCC to recognize a states right to have a law that is stronger than the federal government's law.

Stand up to lobbying and special interest groups and rule in favor for the common people.

Sincerely,

Mark Braithwaite